CLCD Adds Catholic Library World Reviews

The Children's Literature Comprehensive Database (CLCD) is pleased to announce the inclusion of reviews from Catholic Library World as a new review source in the database.

Catholic Library World, a quarterly journal, is the official publication of the Catholic Library Association.

"As part of our on-going effort to provide the most comprehensive coverage of children's and young adult literature, we welcome the Catholic Library World reviews. These professional reviews broaden the information available in CLCD for a particular title. We know our subscribers will be most pleased to have access to them," states Marilyn Courtot, President of CLCD. Subscribers already have access to thirty-eight professional review resources and the addition of Catholic Library World gives another dimension and different perspectives for meeting the critical analytical needs of professionals in every aspect of the education and library service fields.

Catholic Library World, the official publication of the Catholic Library Association, is published quarterly. In addition to book reviews are articles of interest to libraries and librarians in all segments of the community. Each issue contains reviews of Children's and Young Adult books and media. In addition, there are reviews of materials pertinent to everyone involved in or associated with Library Science.

"The CLA Executive Board is enthusiastic about this partnership, which will make Catholic Library World reviews available to a wider audience," says Jean R. Bostley, SSJ, Executive Director of the Catholic Library Association.
